

Farm to Slaughter User Guide

It is now a legal requirement that all pig movements be recorded electronically.

To do electronic pig movement licences you will first need to log onto www.eaml2.org.uk

You will then need to enter your user name & password on the registered user section and click login.

The screenshot shows the eAML2 website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the AHDB PORK logo and tabs for 'About eAML2', 'Help', 'Contact Us', 'Pig Health', and 'ZNPC'. Below the navigation bar, there is a message: 'Sign up to the NEW AHDB Pork Significant Diseases Charter for early warning of disease outbreaks in your region.' The main heading is 'eAML2 Electronic Movement Licensing' with icons for a truck, a pig, a mobile phone, and a computer mouse. Below the heading, there are three main sections: 'Registered Users', 'Register with eAML2', and 'Not registered and received a movement?'. The 'Registered Users' section contains a login form with fields for 'Username' (containing 'ngm2') and 'Password' (containing '*****'), a 'Log In' button, and a 'Remember me next time' checkbox. Below the login form is a 'Forgotten password?' section with an 'Email Address' field and a 'Send Password' button. The 'Register with eAML2' section has an icon of a truck with a green arrow and text: 'Choose this option if you are new to eAML2 and would like to register to set up a movement.' The 'Not registered and received a movement?' section has an icon of a green arrow pointing to a document and text: 'Choose this option if you are new to eAML2 but have received a movement you need to confirm.' At the bottom, there are two sections: 'eAML2 Contact Details' with a helpline number '0844 335 8400*' and a note that calls are charged at 5p/minute plus access charge; and 'Bureau Service & Helpline Opening Times' with a note that the Bureau and Helpline Service Office operating hours are Monday - Friday 9am til 5pm and does not operate over the weekends or English bank holidays.

An animal can be described as 'reared in the UK' if:

1. the animal slaughtered is older than 6 months, reared in UK for at least the last 4 months or
2. the animal slaughtered is younger than 6 months and with a live weight of at least 80 kilograms, animal reared in UK from at least 30 kilograms or
3. the animal slaughtered is younger than 6 months and with a live weight of less than 80 kilograms and the whole rearing period took place in the UK

BD.2.1a

Has this consignment of pigs been kept since birth in premises where measures have been in place to contain these animals within specific controlled buildings or enclosures?

Yes

No

 This question has not been answered.

Help

This covers pigs that were moved onto your farm and those raised from birth on your farm. You should be receiving confirmations from your suppliers that they also have farming and biosecurity measures in place that contain the animals in specific controlled buildings or enclosures (electric fencing, stock-proofing or other natural barriers may be used)

BD.2.10

***New*****

From 1st January the processors exporting pork to the EU have new requirements of an Export Health Certificates. To enable the OV sign the EHC, evidence is required to confirm that the associated pigs were kept separate from wild cloven-hooved animals.

GUIDANCE ON CONTROLLED HOUSING CONDITIONS FOR TRICHINELLA

- From 1st June 2014 all breeding sows and boars and pigs from non-controlled housing conditions must be tested for Trichinella in UK<sup>1</sup>. This requirement applied from 1 November 2014
- Basic general requirements for controlled housing conditions such as pest control, feed storage remain in place (see below). The majority of these requirements are covered by assurance standards schemes
- Pigs that have some access to outdoor facilities could now fall under the umbrella of controlled housing conditions subject to a risk assessment carried out by producers
- At present there is no official guidance that provides a framework for the risk assessment. In the meantime FSA advises farmers to use their judgment to decide if their pigs come from controlled housing
- FSA position is that pigs that spend their entire life outside such as free range pigs are very unlikely to meet the definition of controlled housing conditions. They represent the greater risk of infection of Trichinella
- Once the FSA risk assessment framework and guidance are available, producers who need to revisit their assessment will receive no penalties against them, as long as reasonable judgement has been used to qualify 'controlled housing' in their case

TABLE

- The table below aims to provide some guidance while waiting for the publication of the FSA guidance. It by no means replaces the FSA's risk assessment
- The definitions of the production systems aim to help the farmer identify if they could consider applying control housing conditions

Production system <sup>2</sup>	Subject to meeting the requirement and pending FSA's risk assessment tool the view is that the following production systems are very likely to fall under controlled housing	Risks to be managed (controlled housing)
Fully Housed These pigs are born, reared and finished indoors	Yes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>All practical precautions with regard to building construction and maintenance in order to prevent rodents, any other kind of mammals and carnivorous birds from having access to buildings where animals are kept</li> <li>Pest-control programme in place, in particular for rodents, effectively to prevent infestation of pigs. Records of the programme must be kept</li> <li>All feed has been obtained from a legitimate facility. Feed must be stored in closed silos or other containers that are impenetrable to rodents</li> <li>Feed supplies must be heat-treated or produced and stored adequately</li> <li>Dead animals are collected, identified and transported without undue delay</li> <li>If a rubbish dump is located in the neighbourhood of the holding, the operator must inform the competent authority. Subsequently, the competent authority must assess the risks involved and decide whether the holding is to be recognised as applying controlled housing conditions</li> <li>Piglets coming onto the holding from outside and pigs purchased are born and bred under controlled housing conditions</li> <li>Traceability of pigs at all times</li> <li>New animals may be introduced onto the holding only if they come from holdings also officially recognised as applying controlled housing conditions</li> </ul>
Outdoor bred These pigs are born outside, in fields where they are kept until weaning.	Yes
Outdoor reared These pigs are born outside in fields, where they are reared for approximately half their life (defined as at least 30kg)	Likely
Free range and organic pigs<sup>3</sup> These pigs are born outside, in fields and they remain outside until they are sent for processing	Unlikely (this does not rule out that free range could not come under controlled housing conditions)
